Funding Information

Funding is provided through a grant from the Office of Refugee Resettlement; Administration for Children and Families; U.S. Department of Health and Human Services. The grant is specifically targeted to serve eligible refugees, asylees, and victims of human trafficking as designated by Federal policy. The funding stipulates that the services be provided in a culturally and linguistically appropriate manner.

Award Amounts and Length

Three geographic awards will be issued for the funding period October 1st, 2012 until September, 30th, 2013. Total funding available under this announcement is $400,000. These funds are allocated as follows: Northeast Kansas (Wyandotte, Leavenworth, Johnson) - $220,000; Southwest Kansas (Finney, Ford, Seward) - $140,000 and Balance of State - $40,000. Proposals should designate which service area that is being applied for under this proposal. Awards are subject to the availability of funds and any modifications or additional requirements that may be imposed by law.

Allowable Uses of Funds

Programs may include, but are not limited to, the following allowable uses of award funds: Services provided as part of an employability plan with the goal of employment or as part of a social service self-sufficiency plan to remove specified barriers toward the goal of independence. Programs may include, but are not limited to, the following allowable uses of award funds: The allowable service components are described below. Service component refers to the numbered items such as 1) "Employment Services". Service refers to the parts within a component such as career counseling, development of an employability plan, etc. Not all service components are sub-divided such as Child Care in which case the term service component and service have the same meaning. Not all services that are sub-divisions of a service component are reported. It is expected, for example, that a refugee that receives Employment Services would receive the majority, if not all, of the services that are included in the component. Other service options may be considered if deemed appropriate to assist in the acculturation and social adjustment of the consumer.

1. Employment Services includes: Career counseling, development of an individual employability plan; world-of-work and job orientation; job club; job workshops; job interviewing; and assessment. Assessment services, particularly from the standpoint of employability, include identification of family or environmental obstacles to employment and aptitude and skills testing.
2. Job Search includes: Making or helping a refugee make contact and/or arrangements for an interview for employment.
3. Job Development involves contacts with employers that may result in jobs for refugees and the development of a Jobs Bank information system. The type of information that would be appropriate for the system includes: the needs and requirements of the employer; level of English and other skills needed for various jobs; salary and benefit information, specific job terminology; application procedures; employer contact persons; and information regarding professional licensing and certification programs.
4. Job Placement involves matching refugees with un-subsidized job openings and includes refugees placed directly by the service provider through a documented job search and refugees who are active recipients of services as to enable them to obtain employment on their own. Job placements include temporary/seasonal and permanent, full-time and part-time employment. Full-time employment is defined as 30 hours or more per week. Job placement also includes refugees who changed employment and received some type of service to help them seek a lower risk and/or higher paying job. Job placement does not include OJT until the subsidized portion of the OJT ends.

5. Follow-up/Retention includes contacts with employers and/or refugees to determine if the refugee is still employed, identify and potential problems or needs and the services necessary to resolve the problem or meet the needs. The frequency of follow-up contacts is based on need but reported for the 30th, 60th, and 90th day after becoming employed. Refugees are considered to have been employed on these “benchmark” days if they are working on that date regardless if they have worked at that particular job or employer for the 30, 60 or 90 day period.
6. English Language Instruction (ESL) may include instruction at four levels; preliterate; basic survival skills; intermediate; and advanced. Survival English may include vocabulary necessary to obtain food, housing, meet health needs, and access mainstream services. ESL is intended for refugees whose assessment has determined that the development and implementation of an employability plan is not appropriate. Only those refugees meeting this criteria are allowable for the provision of refugee funded ESL. The B.E.S.T. is the recommended test to assess the refugee’s current level and to measure progress however CASAS is an allowable alternative. ESL provision is preferred on a minimum of a 20 hour per week basis. Consideration during the review of the applications will be given to applicants that adhere to this preferred format. ESL is limited to 9 months unless written approval is received for an extension. Any requests for an extension must be submitted in writing at least 30 days prior to the end of the 9 months or the current extension period. Failure to obtain timely extensions will place all refugee grants funding at risk.
7. Intensive Vocational Orientation (IVO): includes the explanation, in the native language of the refugee, of rules, issues and employer expectations that may arise from employment. This may specifically include: timeliness; reporting in sick; safety rules; equipment and procedures; how to report injuries; employee rights; and why and what exercises are important to avoid serious hand, arm, shoulder, and back injuries. Service providers that provide employability services to refugees that may enter employment in a beef/pork processing plant should provide IVO.
8. On the Job Training (OJT): involves funded training provided at an employment site and is expected to result in full-time permanent, unsubsidized employment with the employer who is providing the training.
9. Skills Recertification: Basically a social service, skills recertification involves helping a refugee obtain professional refresher training and other recertification services in order to qualify to practice his or her profession in the United States. The training may consist of full-time attendance in a college or professional training program specifically intended to assist the professional in becoming relicensed in his or her profession; and if completed, can realistically be expected to result in such relicensing. It does not include funding for the training.
10. Child Care: Includes the care of a child when necessary for the adult to participate in an activity included in the refugee’s employability or service plan and may continue for a maximum of 90 days after employment, if needed, and not otherwise available. Child care may be provided directly by the service provider or indirectly by another agency.
 - a. NOTE: Eligibility for other child care services provided by DCF must be considered and results of contact documented in case records.

11. Transportation: may be provided when necessary for activities in the refugee's employability or service plan and may include public transportation costs to the site of the service provider.
12. Translation/Interpreter Services: are intended to familiarize refugees and families with Western culture in general and with the lifestyle of their resettlement localities in particular and to direct refugees to appropriate resources. The services may be in support of an employability or service plan.
13. Outreach: includes activities and contacts with refugees and community agencies to familiarize them with available services. Outreach may involve refugee home visits.
14. Social Adjustment: includes
 - a. Information and referral services (not employment related);
 - b. Emergency services including assessment and short-term counseling to refugees in perceived crisis, referral to appropriate resources, and assistance in obtaining needed services;
 - c. Health-related services including information and referral to appropriate resources, assistance in scheduling appointments and obtaining services, and counseling to refugees or families to help understand and identify their health needs and maintain or improve their health; and
 - d. Home management services including formal and informal instructions to refugees or families in management of household budgets, home maintenance, nutrition, housing standards and tenants' rights, and other consumer education services.
15. Case Management Services: Means the determination of which services to refer a refugee to, reference to such services and tracking of the refugee's participation in such services as part of an employability or service plan.
16. Other Services: includes services that are required as a result of a competitive or non-competitive grant, e.g.:
 - a) Former Political Prisoner Services including specialized orientation and adjustment services, peer support activities and specialized employment-related services.
 - b) Diversion Services including the provision of interpretation services during diversion classes.

In accordance with 400.152 of the final rule, the State will limit all services with the exception of interpretation and referral services when funded by ORR formula grants. - b. Applicants may provide employability services to refugees who are 16 years of age or older and who are not full-time students in elementary or secondary school, except that such a student may be provided employment services and employability assessment in order to obtain part-time or temporary (e.g., summer) employment while a student, or full-time permanent employment upon completion of schooling; until the 5 year anniversary of the refugee's arrival in the United States.
- c. Applicants shall coordinate with local resettlement agencies and un-duplicate the provision of services to the eligible service population.
- d. Individuals resettled through the "Private Sector Initiative" (PSI) are not eligible for refugee funded social services.
- e. The maximum length of time that a refugee social services eligible individual may receive ESL or VESL under this grant is nine months. Peer Review Panel

Peer review is the process by which competitive discretionary grant applications are evaluated by internal and external reviewers. Peer reviewers evaluate applications to make sure the information presented is reasonable, understandable, measurable, and achievable, as well as consistent with program or legislative requirements as stated in the solicitation.

DCF leadership uses the peer review summaries as guidance when selecting projects for awards. The peer reviewers' ratings serve as a basis for recommending whether to consider an application for funding. Peer review evaluations are advisory only, though, and do not bind DCF to follow the ratings. In addition to peer review ratings, considerations may include, but are not limited to, underserved populations, strategic priorities, past performance, geographic balance, and available funding.
